WHAT IS A PERSONAL BRAND?

Your personal brand is a combination of the skills, experiences, qualities and ideals forged from your time in the military. It is who YOU are – and it's what you bring to the table for an employer.

"When I left the military, it was hard for me to explain how my military experience translated into civilian careers. Resume Engine takes into account every branch, rank, specialty, training course, medal, and more. It is a game-changer for veterans, connecting the dots between our military experience and the skills America's employers need."
